

Tom Dunn

Tom has 30 years in product development management positions of increasing responsibility with a major flexible packaging converter where customer contact and support are priorities. His experience includes direct responsibility for compliance of entire corporate product mix with international food safety law and intellectual property management. Tom has continuing involvement with environmental issue management.

